Would you do anything to protect your family?

Why take the chance of potential injury to your family or being stranded with a damaged vehicle?

ShuRoo has been helping protect motorists from wildlife hits since 1986. The unique signal emitted by ShuRoo cannot be heard by humans, but to wildlife it is as loud as a police siren. By taking advantage of their high frequency danger alert system in this way, ShuRoo warns animals of your approach and helps prevent a collision that could potentially harm you, your passengers and your vehicle. Not only does ShuRoo protect you and your family, it also protects our wildlife.

Solid yet lightweight

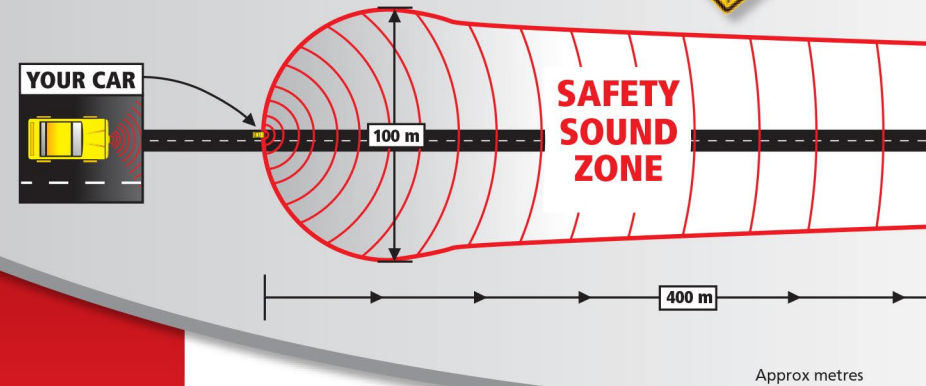

The new Slimline ShuRoo casing is made from lightweight premium alloy to withstand the tough Australian driving environment. Insects, dirt and weather will not affect ShuRoo's performance.

Easy to install

The new one piece compact design allows for easy installation to cars, RVs, trucks and buses.

Unobtrusive and attractive design

The compact, slimline design of ShuRoo will enhance your vehicle while helping to protect you. An attractive accessory you can't afford to be without!

The High Frequency ShuRoo "Safety Sound Zone"

ShuRoo creates a high frequency "Safety Sound Zone" 400 metres ahead and 50 metres either side of your vehicle which alerts kangaroos and other wildlife to your approaching vehicle—day, night, rain or shine.
